

Roughly a third of passengers survived

Females are more than three times likely to survive than their counterparts

The survival chance is higher with respect to ticket class

Elders and children have priority boarding pass to survive

Data analysis of passengers coming from different places

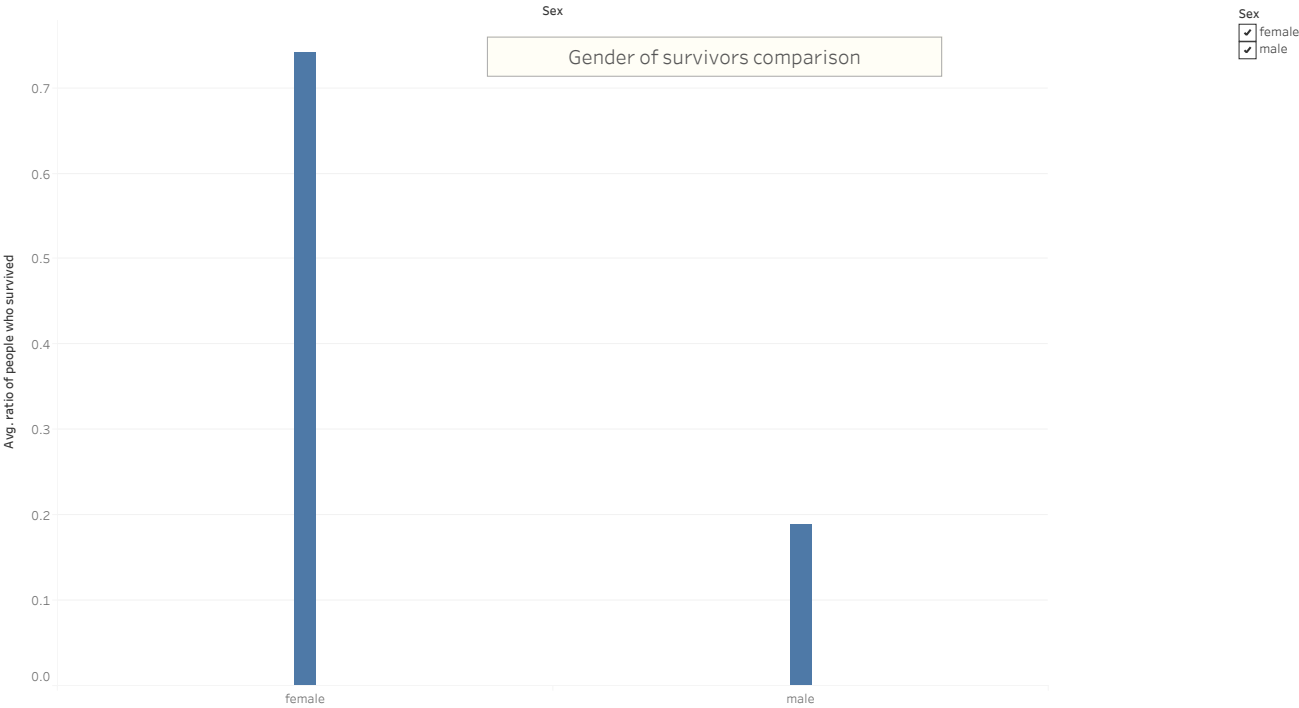

Roughly a third of passengers survived

Females are more than three times likely to survive than their counterparts

The survival chance is higher with respect to ticket class

Elders and children have priority boarding pass to survive

Data analysis of passengers coming from different places

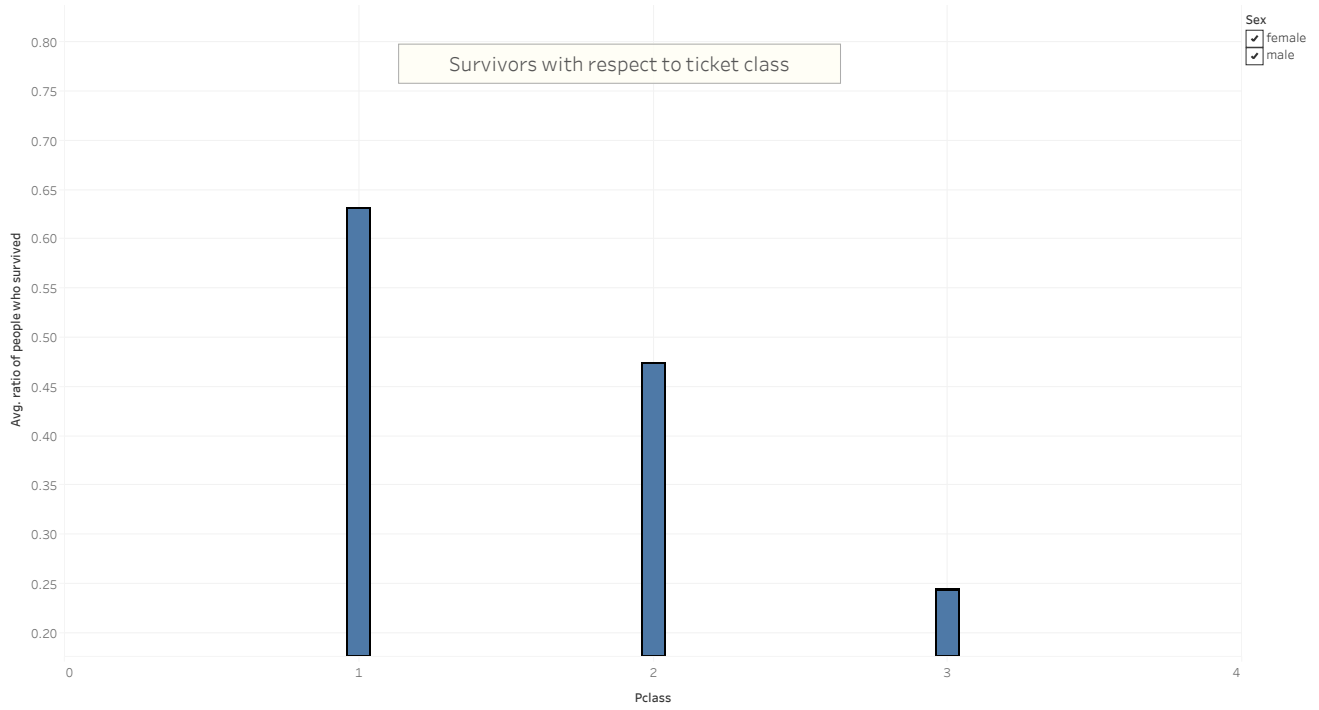

Roughly a third of passengers survived

Females are more than three times likely to survive than their counterparts

The survival chance is higher with respect to ticket class

Elders and children have priority boarding pass to survive

Data analysis of passengers coming from different places

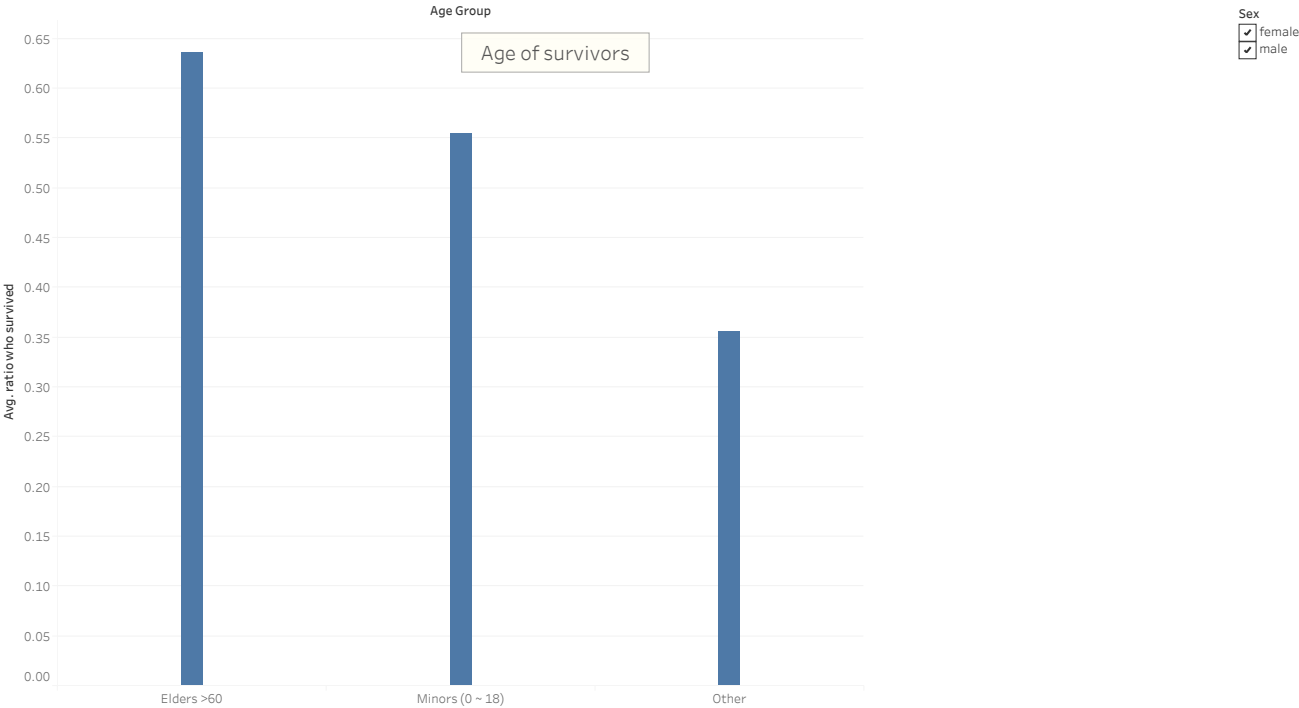

Roughly a third of passengers survived

Females are more than three times likely to survive than their counterparts

The survival chance is higher with respect to ticket class

Elders and children have priority boarding pass to survive

Data analysis of passengers coming from different places

Roughly a third of passengers survived

Females are more than three times likely to survive than their counterparts

The survival chance is higher with respect to ticket class

Elders and children have priority boarding pass to survive

Data analysis of passengers coming from different places

